During this summer vacation, I couldn't go to any fun place. I had to stay at home because we were afraid of Covid-19. If there are no virus infectious diseases, I would travel to Hawaii and jump into the blue sea, or go to China and enjoy all-you-can-eat at a famous dim-sum restaurant. I think it's nice to yell "Yahoo!" at the top of the Matterhorn in Switzerland. Of course, this is a story that starts with what if. I wish I could live such a life someday. First of all, I will do my best to study English more.
