The experience of a lifetime!

TEACH ENGLISH IN JAPAN

Last Resort, in partnership with one of Japan's leading language school chains, NOVA, offers a fantastic opportunity for working holiday visa holders to teach English and experience life in Japan. Our Teach in Japan package takes away the stress of finding your feet in a new country. Without the hassle of having to find work and accommodation, you can focus fully on the experience right from the word go! and acquire valuable teaching skills in a professional teaching environment at the same time. Leave the arrangements to us as you embark on the adventure of a lifetime!

Living in Japan

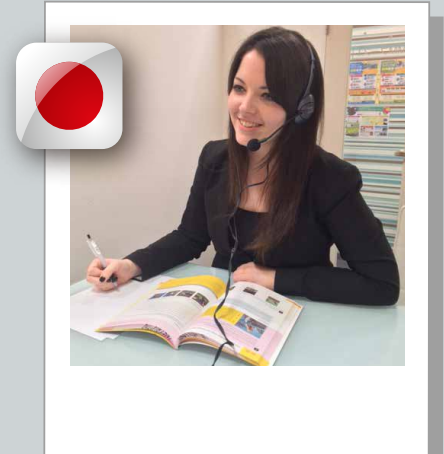

To make the transition to life in Japan as smooth as possible for you, Last Resort offers support from the moment you land. One of our team will be waiting for you at the airport to take you to your accommodation. Last Resort can arrange accommodation with a Japanese family if you are keen to immerse yourself in Japanese home life, or in a share house if you prefer a more international experience. Last Resort will assist you with opening a bank account and we also offer a phone rental service. Once settled in and over the jetlag, you'll soon appreciate how convenient and easy to navigate Japan is. If you need any support or run into any difficulties, you will be able to call our support line for assistance.

Japanese Lessons

Our Japanese lessons will equip you with practical language and communication skills that you can start to use right away! Learning the local language while in Japan not only makes daily life easier, but also enriches your whole experience of Japan by opening new doors to appreciating its culture.

The lessons are taught online by native Japanese instructors using NOVA's teaching method. Students are divided by level and class sizes are small. Lessons can be taken from any NOVA school or from your own PC or tablet computer.

Teaching English

NOVA's lesson format, common to all levels, ensures consistency, balance and a supported progression through the lesson stages. It allows new instructors to quickly become proficient in teaching a wide variety of students and ability ranges.

Due to the huge range of students studying at NOVA and also NOVA's flexible lesson booking system, no two days teaching at NOVA are exactly the same, and each shift brings a different mix of lessons and students. As well as conversation lessons for adults and NOVA Junior classes for younger learners, NOVA offers a variety of special types of classes, courses and events.

Training & Teaching Materials

Even for those who've never taught before, the NOVA training program ensures that new instructors will be fully equipped to teach from their first day teaching solo. During initial training, which lasts for four full days, new instructors learn all the basics regarding lesson selection, planning, teaching and record-keeping, through seminar sessions, workshops, practical teaching experience, and extensive feedback. All lessons are supported with full-color teaching materials and other resources, all developed in-house and accompanied with guides for instructors.

Discover Japan

Whatever has piqued your interest in Japan, anime, zen temples, snowboarding, sushi, you will find all of those things and much much more in this fascinating country.

Breathtaking natural beauty, colorful festivals, incredible warmth and hospitality from local people, amazing efficiency, it's all waiting for you to discover.
